One man, just as Sims was going below, called out to him to preach liberty to the slaves; and as the brig was departing, Rev. Mr. Foster, orthodox minister of Concord, made the following prayer:

Almighty God! Thou seest this poor man, one of thy children, borne away by oppressors; Thou art the friend of all who suffer wrong, and we have now no hope but in Thee; that hope is still unshaken: Thy promises endure for ever, and now we beseech Thee to show Thy power and love in blessing this dear brother, who is carried by force to the land of whips and chains. Oh! God, make him a missionary of power to awaken a love of justice and liberty that shall end in the speedy overthrow of the accursed system which now causes millions of bleeding hearts. In mercy, Heavenly Father, do Thou destroy the wicked power which rules us. Give us righteous men to administer just laws, forgive the wickedness of our rulers and lead them to true and lasting repentance. Pity the wretched man who now goes in fetters over the waves; pity and bless his brethren in chains; hasten the day when all men shall be free, and thine shall be the glory .-Amen!
